

The Acknowledgment Song

© Jemma King

with guidance from Marie Taylor, Merinda Hansen and Della Rae Morrison Date 2018

These Lyrics are written to be sung on Whadjuk Noongar Country within the Bibbulmun Nation. Before singing, please clarify with the local traditional custodians, the name of the country you are upon, and change lyrics accordingly.

---

We acknowledge the land on which we now stand
Has always been Whadjuk country
We pay our respect to elders past
Those present and those of the future

We acknowledge the land on which we now stand
Has always been Whadjuk country
We pay our respect to elders past
Those present and those of the future

For thousands and thousands of years
First Nations peoples have cared for our country
We pay our respect to the oldest continuous living culture in the world

We acknowledge the land on which we now stand
Has always been Whadjuk country
We pay our respect to elders past
Those present and those of the future

We acknowledge the land on which we now stand
Will always be Whadjuk country

Used with permission – Madjitol Moorna